

Zach Dyer

Zack Dyer is a comedian originally hailing from North Queensland. After performing in Queensland for several years, Zack then moved to Melbourne where he found success after winning Triple J's RAW comedy competition in 2017, the following year he was a part of the Melbourne International Comedy Festival's newcomer showcase "The Comedy Zone" .

In 2019 he successfully debuted his first solo show at both the Brisbane and Melbourne Comedy Festivals and has been a regular at festivals and comedy clubs around the country since.

Laconic and relaxed, Zack has his own unique style of absurd observations mixed with stories that stem from his background as a North Queenslander from a working class bogan family.
